1st Canadian Healthcare Optimization Workshop (CHOW)

HEC Montréal, May 10-11, 2017

3000, chemin de la Côte-Sainte-Catherine, Montréal
Program starts at 9:00 AM on both days

This workshop aims to provide a forum for researchers working in healthcare optimization, or those who are interested in getting into the area, to network with other researchers and learn about the latest advances in the field. Students are especially encouraged to attend since the format will be a series of tutorial-like talks covering a wide range of methods and application areas.

CHOW follows immediately after Optimization Days 2017 also occurring at HEC Montréal, May 8-10, 2017.

Registration fee: $65 CAD (can be combined with Optimization Days registration)

Registration fee cover breakfasts, coffee breaks, lunches and an evening reception on Wednesday, May 10, 2017.
